

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

In response to frequent requests for names of journals published in foreign countries or dealing with foreign countries, the following list has been prepared. This is not a complete list of even those journals devoted primarily to trade and economic conditions. It is, however, a compilation of those foreign journals which the various divisions of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce have found of distinct value in keeping in touch with foreign conditions in the geographical regions indicated. Doubtless many omissions will be noted and the journals here listed will be found of unequal value. A few American journals have been included, especially those which deal primarily with foreign countries. A brief statement of the field covered by each journal is included.

Subscriptions to these journals usually can be entered through American subscription agencies that specialize in foreign magazines, or by direct address to the periodical concerned.

INTERNATIONAL STATISTICS.

The following journals are devoted primarily to the publication of international trade and financial statistics, covering many countries:

International Crop and Agricultural Statistics.

Issued monthly by the International Institute of Agriculture, Rome, in four languages—French, English, Spanish, and Italian—and in three parts.

1. Prices.—Official quotations from the exchanges of figures collected from trustworthy private sources. The prices of foodstuffs are quoted in the national currency of the producing country as well as in the currencies of the different markets on which the products in question are quoted. The translation from one currency into another is carried out at a rate given at the beginning of each publication. Cereals, textiles, and freight rates are the principal subjects included in these statistics. The report generally appears in the middle of the month and gives the rates of the weeks of the preceding month.

2. Production.—Gives in metric units the cultivated areas and yields, together with percentages and averages for preceding years, in the case of cereals, potatoes, beet roots, wine, textile, tobacco, etc. Each number contains a summary of official information supplied by the different countries about the state of their cultivated land and harvest forecasts. Sometimes statistics of cattle are given.

3. Trade and stocks.—Gives statistics in connection with international trade and monthly export and import figures, the figures of each month being compared with those of other months and the period since the beginning of the year in question being compared with corresponding periods of preceding years. The figures given take into account quantities and not values and are expressed in metric units. Only general trade is dealt with.

Monthly Bulletin of Statistics.

Issued by the League of Nations, Geneva, in English and in French. It is made up from the data collected from the official publications or from the authorities quoted in the Bulletin. The questions treated are: Production of pig iron; coal; steel; ships; tonnage in construction; foreign trade, in quantities and values; movement of shipping; wholesale prices; finances; metallic reserve; circulation; discount; bank rate; capital issues; statistics of unemployed.

Monthly Record of the International Institute of Commerce.

Published by the International Institute of Commerce in Brussels. This is patronized by 17 countries, its offices being in Brussels, and has been published since September, 1921. It includes a part dealing with legislative information, fairs, exhibitions, etc., and a part dealing with statistics. The questions dealt with are more or less the same as those in the Bulletin of the League of Nations. It gives a number of figures, the most important of which are the index numbers of wholesale and retail prices, as well as those showing fluctuations in the rates of exchange and the normal rates.

Monthly Bulletin of the International Institute of Statistics.

This is published by the International Institute of Statistics, which since 1921 has published a monthly bulletin, drawn up by its permanent office at The Hague, and which practically deals only with the statistics of wholesale prices of foodstuffs and various kinds of articles (11 articles). Actual prices and estimates are worked out by the office according to very rigorous methods. Official or unofficial figures given by the different countries are compared.

The International Labor Review.

Published by the International Labor Office at Genoa, in English and French. Gives every month statistics of unemployed and up-to-date information about wholesale and retail prices in the whole world, with many details about the cost of living in the different countries.

The Survey of Current Business.

Published monthly by the Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C. This is primarily a collection of statistics of domestic production and trade, but includes also a large amount of data on trade, production, and prices in foreign countries.
